

FEEL THE LOVE

A bride pops the “will you be my bridesmaid?” question at a flower-bedecked BFF brunch.

“

1.

“Our keywords: simple, chic perfection for the best gals in your life. We aimed for a cool but girly vibe, ultra-feminine with modern touches.”

—Intertwined Events

2.

5.

4.

3.

1. A tufted antique couch anchors a cozy setting for the bride to bond with her future 'maids. Inside each balloon is a note that "pops" the "be my bridesmaid" question. 2. A pretty place setting. 3. Artfully ombréd roses and peonies in shades from full-on fuchsia to palest baby pink. 4. Strawberry yogurt parfait adds color and flavor to the party palette. 5. In keeping with the "be-my-bridesmaid" theme, personalized menus ask each guest, "So Will You?"

1.

2.

5.

1. Guests are invited to create mimosas from an array of fresh fruits and fruit juices. 2. Even the mimosas were treated to the ombré effect! 3. The note that was placed inside each balloon asks “will you be my bridesmaid?” 4. The brunch-worthy pancake cake, surrounded by cupcakes. 5. An invitation for guests to to mix and muddle at the bar. Design: Intertwined Events. Production: InspiredByThis.com. Flowers: The Velvet Garden. Furniture, tableware and napkins: Archive Rentals. Stationery and cupcake toppers: Nic.Roc.Designs. Mimosa bar and sparkling wine: ONEHOPE Wine. Venue: The Washbow, Culver City, CA.

3.

4.

“The bride asked for a color palette of all things pink, so we took that wish and ran with it. The flowers—particularly the ombré table runners and centerpieces—played a key role in bringing her wishes to life.”
—InspiredByThis.com